From the Paris Gazette, dated Jan. 27.

Naples, December 26.

THE Tribunal of the Criminal Vicariate had condemned to Death for Contumacy a Man accuſed of divers enormous Crimes, but he eſcaping took Sanctuary in a Church on the Eſtate of the Duke de Moles, whence refuſing to come out, he was killed. The Duke de Moles went and made great Complaints of this to the Viceroy, not on Account of the Immunity violated, but of the little Regard that had been ſhewn to him, in doing that Execution on his Lands. The Viceroy anſwered him in Terms ſo vehement, that he went home to his Houſe ſtruck with Fear and Grief, and was almoſt immediately taken with a Fit of Apoplexy, of which he died in a few Days. He was one of thoſe who in the Revolution of this Kingdom had ſhewn moſt Animoſity againſt the King of Spain, and moſt Zeal for the Archduke, with whom he was all the Time he ſtaid in Barcelona.

Venice, Jan. 6. On New Year's Day, the Doge accompanied by our Regency held a Chappel, according to Cuſtom, in the Church of St. Mark, and at Night aſſiſted with the Nobles at the Proceſſion of the Holy Sacrament, to beg the Bleſſing of God for this Year, and a general Peace. Publick Prayers were continued the two following Days, during which the Theatres were ſhut up and the publick Diverſions forbidden. Few Foreigners are come to the Carnival, becauſe the Paſſages are ſhut up in divers Places, and all Paſſingers are obliged to rigorous Quarantaines, for fear of their coming from infected Countries. The Precautions are continued on that Account, with the more Care, becauſe all the Methods already uſed for preventing the Communication of the contagious Diſtemper among the large Cattle, notwithſtanding the Cold and the deep Snows, it rages as violently as ever, eſpecially in the Breſſan. Signior Piſani, Proveditore of Health at Breſcia, has on this Occaſion iſſued very rigorous Orders, among them one prohibiting the exporting any Corn out of all that Territory. A Palace is fitting up at Pontieba, for the Count de Galaſch, Ambaſſador of the Court of Vienna at Rome, who has taken another Road than that through Tirol, to avoid performing Quarantain twice ſhould he have come the common Way. We learn by Letters from the Coaſts of the Adriatick, Subject to the Houſe of Auſtria, that the Spaniſh and Italian Regiments imbarked at Naples, to be tranſported to Hungary, were landed, and that thoſe Troops had begun to put themſelves on the March. 'Tis adviſed from Mantua, that ſome Days ago the Troops which were there, had ſiezed ſome Barks paſſing to Ferrara, and that the Inhabitants of the Ferrareze being inraged at it, ſtopped others laden with Salt which were going to Mantua. The German Officers have made great Complaints of it to the Legate of Ferrara, who has promiſed them all Juſtice: But they demand that thoſe who have ſtopped their Barks with Salt ſhould be put into their Hands: That thoſe to whom they belong ſhould have Satisfaction made them, and they pretend to ten thouſand Crowns for this Article: Laſtly, that Satisfaction be given to the Archduke, as for an Enterprize againſt his Soveraignty.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Jan. 30.

A Proclamation by the States-General concerning Cattle.

THE States of Holland and Weſt-Friſeland, to all who ſhall ſee theſe Preſents Greeting: Know ye, that being informed to our great Grief, that the Diſtemper which has been obſerved for ſome time in divers Parts of this Province, among the large Cattle, augments daily: We find our ſelves obliged to uſe all Precautions poſſible, as well for ſtopping the Progreſs of that Diſtemper, as for preſerving the Cattle. For theſe Cauſes, we have thought fit to forbid and prohibit, as we forbid and prohibit by theſe Preſents, the throwing into the Zuyder-Zee, or into other Lakes, Rivers, Canals, Ditches, or other Waters, any dead Ox, Cow, Calf, or other Carcaſe, on the Penalty of a Fine of 25 Gulders for every Beaſt, and alſo of arbitrary Correction. But the dead Beaſt muſt immediately be buried at leaſt three Foot under Ground; and if the Earth in ſome parts be not ſo deep, it muſt be buried as deep as it can; under the Penalty of a Fine of 25 Gulders payable by the Owners of the dead Beaſts.

No Perſon ſhall expoſe to ſale, ſell, or buy any Produce of diſtempered Cattle, or Fleſh of ſuch as dye, under the Penalty of 25 Gulders.

And it being obſerved that Dogs, as well of the Towns as of the open Country, by running about, may communicate the Infection; all Inhabitants are hereby commanded to keep their Dogs within Doors, on the Penalty of a Fine of 5 Gulders; and Leave is given to every body to fire upon or knock on the Head all Dogs they find abroad.

'Tis likewiſe forbidden, for the ſix Months next enſuing, to kill any Calf, without Diſtinction or Exception, or to expoſe to ſale any Calf brought forth dead; as alſo to kill any Lambs before Eaſter, on the Penalty of a Fine of 25 Gulders for every Calf or Lamb killed before the ſaid Time.

'Tis alſo expreſly forbidden, to kill any Milch Cows, or Cows with Calf, or any Calves of a Year old or Heifers, on the Penalty of a Fine of 50 Gulders for every Beaſt killed.

All the ſaid Fines to be divided, half to the Officer who ſhall ſieze, and half to the Informer. &c.

Remarks upon Dr. Clark's Scripture-Doctrine of the Trinity. By the Author of some Considerations touching the Trinity, and the Ways of managing that Controversy. Printed for Henry Clements at the Half Moon in St. Paul's Church-Yard: Where may be had the Considerations.

Famous Drops for Hypocondriack Melancholly: Which effectually cure on the Spot, by rectifying the Stomach and Blood, cleansing them from all Impurities, and giving a new Turn to their Ferment, attenuating all vitious tenacious Humours (which make the Head heavy, clog the Spirits, confuse the Mind, and cause the deepest Melancholly, with direful Views and black Reflections) comforting the Brain and Nerves, composing the hurried Thoughts and introducing bright lively Ideas and pleasant Briskness, instead of dismal Apprehensions and dark Incumbrance of the Soul, letting the Intellectuals at Liberty to act with Courage, Serenity and Steady Chearfulness, and causing a visible diffusive Joy to reign in the Room of uneasy Doubts, Fears, &c. for which they may be truly esteem'd infallible. Price 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions. Sold only at Mr. Bell's Bookseller at the Cross-Keys and Bible in Cornhill near the Royal-Exchange.

A precious Secret for all Manner of Coughs, great Colds, sharp Rhumes, Shortness of Breath, and difficult Breathing, which excels other fam'd things, being what I have us'd near 20 Years in Practice, cur'd Numbers of People therewith of supposed incurable Coughs, Catarrhs, Asthma's, Phthysicks, &c. many of whom had been 20 or 30 Years continually vex'd therewith Night and Day, and could not find a Cure, though they had fought one at great Expence; In a Word, it gives a general Satisfaction, helps more in one Day than other Medicines do in ten, makes a perfect Cure when all other Remedies fail, and carries with it evermore the desir'd Success. Price 2 s. the Bot. Sold at the original South-Sea Coffee-house in Broad-street, and at the Glover's under the Cattle-Tavern Fleet-street.

The famous Anti-Rheumatick Tincture of the late most experienced Chymist Mr. George Wilson, having long since obtained great Reputation, by curing Multitudes not only of Rheumatick Pains, but of other chronick and stubborn Diseases, which the many Letters received from Persons of Quality, Physicians, Apothecaries, Surgeons, &c. do abundantly testify. He had no Thoughts of permitting it to be published any more after this manner; yet being assured that it has been counterfeited, and now Sold by several People in Town, detracting much from the Medicine's Vertue: This is to satisfy the World, that this excellent Medicine, which Mr. Wilson (some time before his Death) had much improved, and solemnly declared to several Gentlemen, that he had fully and solely instructed his Wife to prepare, continues to be Sold only by her, at her House in Well-Yard, near St. Bartholomew's-Hospital, London. N.B. If any Person has a mind to Sell this Medicine in the Country, he may be furnish'd with what Quantity he pleases, paying ready Money.

The highest Compounded Spirit of Lavender: The most glorious (if the Expression may be us'd) enlivening Scent and Flavour that can possibly be: In Vapours, Sick Fits, Faintings, &c. smelt to, or drops upon a bit of Loaf-Sugar, and eaten or diffolv'd in Wine, Coffee, Tea, or what Liquor you please, so charms the Spirits, delights the Gust, and gives such Airs to the Countenance, as are not to be imagin'd but by those that have try'd it. The nearest Sort of the thing is admir'd by most Gentlemen and Ladies, but this far more, as by far it exceeds it, to the gaining a mein all a more than common Esteem. Is Sold only (in neat Flint Bottles fit for the Pocket) at 3 s. 6 d. each, at the Golden-Key in Great-Kirby-street, Hatton-Garden.

LONDON, Printed by Sam. Buckley, at the Dolphin in Little-Britain; and Sold by Ferd. Burleigh in Ameu-Corner.
